These Terms and Conditions are concluded for an indefinite period.

The User acknowledges her/his awareness of the nature, purpose and characteristics of the Website and Services, as well as of the prerequisites for their use. S/he acknowledges having requested and obtained all necessary information, notably with regard to the quantitative and qualitative characteristics of the Services, enabling her/him to assess the suitability of the Services for her/his needs and to enter into the Terms and Conditions with full knowledge of the facts. The User is solely responsible for the choice to use the Website and the Services so that the responsibility of Tanjiblocks cannot be pursued in any way in this respect.

3. DESCRIPTION OF THE SERVICES

Tanjiblocks' purpose is to offer its Users an innovative tool for visualizing the contents of their electronic Wallet(s) and comparing them with those of other Users, all presented in the form of a "City", i.e., three-dimensional maps composed of virtual "Tiles" on which "Buildings" can be erected to represent the ownership of digital assets or Placeable (as defined below).

3.1 Account creation and creation of the City

3.1.1 Account creation

In order to benefit from the Services available on the Platform through the Website, each User must create an account by one of the following methods:

- Wallet connection: through an Application Programming Interface ("API"), the User connects her/his supported Wallets to the Platform. These include (i) non-custodial Wallets (e.g., Metamask and Wallet Connect) to which the User retains the private cryptographic keys, and (ii) Wallets held by external digital asset trading platforms (e.g., Coinbase and Binance) (together the "Personal Wallet"). Personal Wallet connection to the Platform is in "read-only" mode, meaning that the authorization granted to the Platform by the User via the API only provides access to view the content and balance of digital assets in the connected wallets, with no capability to make any transactions. For the avoidance of doubt, under no circumstances may the Company access or movement the digital assets within the User's Personal Wallet.
- Account creation via social media: alternatively, the User can create an account on the Platform using her/his X (ex-Twitter), Google, or Discord account, or through her/his email address, which s/he will need to verify via a confirmation link.

3.1.2 Digital Assets visualization

Once their account is created, each User can view her/his City, composed of different Tiles, each of which is square in shape and can feature Buildings representing different types of digital assets. The City's purpose is to provide Users with an innovative and interactive way to visualize their digital assets.

In addition to Buildings, Placeable can also be displayed on the Tiles, which come in two forms:

- "Vanity Placeable": a purely cosmetic digital object, which can take the form of a statue,

- an icon, or a symbol, typically occupying a quarter of a Tile; and
- “Utilitarian Placeable”: a cosmetic and utilitarian digital object, such as an NFT granting access to specific Tournaments (as defined below).

If the User has chosen to connect her/his Personal Wallet to the Platform, the City displays the Buildings corresponding to the digital assets held within it.

Alternatively, Users have the option to simply provide the public address of a Personal Wallet so that their City displays the Buildings corresponding to the digital assets contained in that Personal Wallet.

Finally, a User can choose to manually and arbitrarily indicate digital assets in desired quantities that are not contained in a wallet or linked to a public address so that these elements are reflected in their City. In this last case, it represents a fictional ownership of digital assets, allowing Users without such assets to interact with the Platform and its Services.

As a result, each type of digital asset is represented by a Building in the City, and the height of the Building depends on the quantity of that type of asset held.

Each City can contain a maximum of seven (7) Buildings. The Platform currently supports more than sixty (60) digital assets, which are listed on the dedicated section of the Website, and this list is expected to grow gradually. To be considered on the Platform, digital assets must be based on one of the supported blockchain networks, including Algorand, Bitcoin, Dogecoin, Polkadot, Ethereum, Litecoin, NEAR Protocol, Stellar, XRP, or Tezos.

Users can choose to make their City public, meaning it is accessible for viewing by other Users. In this regard, Users can share their City with others by providing a link provided by the Platform.

The Company may elect to issue Cities, Tiles and Placeable in the form of NFTs registered on the Polygon blockchain.

3.1.3 Platform content

Once a User creates her/his account on the Platform, s/he has access to three main tabs:

- “City” page: this page allows Users to visualize their City and its contents, as well as monitor the individual performance of each of the digital assets represented, based on real market prices published by Coinmarketcap;
- “Leaderboard” page: this page enables Users to view the ranking of Users based on the “experience” they have gained. Experience is earned by taking actions on the Platform, such as connecting a Personal Wallet in read-only mode, being active on the Company's Discord channel, or having a “performant” City based on the prices of digital assets held in the Personal Wallet.
- “Play” page: this page allows Users to view past, ongoing, or upcoming tournaments organized by the Platform (the “Tournaments”) and participate in them, as applicable.

In addition, the “Account” page contains among others a “Wallet” section that allows Users to (i) connect Personal Wallets to the Platform in read-only mode, (ii) search for Personal Wallets by specifying their public address, and/or (iii) manually add digital assets to their City to represent fictional ownership

The total amount of digital assets in the User’s City is displayed on each page in equivalent US Dollars. Additionally, the overall performance of digital assets is expressed as a percentage over a given period.

3.2 Services available on the Platform

3.2.1 Subscription

The creation of an account, access to the Platform, and the service for visualizing Cities are free.

However, Users can access additional features through the subscription of a paid subscription (the “Subscription”), which can be either weekly, monthly, or annual, based on the User’s choice. Subscription payments are made exclusively in digital assets of ERC-20 standard and of the type USDC or USDT. For the avoidance of doubt, legal tender (“Fiat”) currencies are not accepted as payment for Subscription.

The Subscription price is displayed on the dedicated section of the Website.

To subscribe to a Subscription, Users need to purchase an NFT registered on the Polygon blockchain and offered for sale by the Company through the Platform. Visually, the NFT takes the form of a “rocket” that Users can place on one of their Tiles. The Company utilizes a third-party technology provider, Unlock Protocol, for issuing these NFTs. Holding this NFT serves as proof of Subscription, granting the holder corresponding rights. Each NFT provides access to one or more Placeable, including a Utilitarian Placeable representing the Subscription, and as the case may be, Vanity Placeable.

Subscribing to a Subscription provides the following benefits:

- access to various additional analytical features:
 - o the ability to connect more Personal Wallets in read-only mode to one’s account, and consequently, display more Buildings in the City;
 - o the ability to display Buildings in the City for digital assets newly supported by the Platform, in advance of non-subscribed Users;
 - o real-time updates of digital asset prices (and consequently, the height of Buildings), unlike periodic updates, i.e., every hour, for non-subscribed Users;
 - o access to data about one’s own City as well as comparative data with other Users, with these comparative data being aggregated and anonymized;

- the opportunity to receive free distributions of additional items to display in the City (e.g., Vanity Placeable); and
- access to five Tournaments per week instead of three for non-subscribed Users and access to Tournaments dedicated to the holders of specific Buildings, such as digital assets newly listed on the Platform, providing early access to subscribers.

3.2.2 Tournaments

Users of the Platform have the option to participate in all accessible Tournaments for free via the “Play” page of the Platform. Some Tournaments may be accessible only to User with a Subscription, but it is not possible to lose one's Subscription / NFT by participating in Tournaments.

Each Tournament pits different Users in trading competitions.

Concretely, at the start of each Tournament, Users receive a fictitious amount that they must allocate to between two and five digital assets. The fictitious wallet created at the beginning of the Tournament follows real market prices, as provided by Coinmarketcap. Users’ goal is to optimize the allocation of this fictitious wallet to generate the highest fictitious return based on the selected digital assets.

At the end of each Tournament, a ranking is established based on the fictitious return generated by each participant. The User with the highest fictitious return wins the Tournament.

For the avoidance of doubt, no real digital asset or Fiat is actually at stake, and Users shall not receive benefit from their fictitious returns.

When registering for a Tournament, each User has the option to choose certain “trading actions” that they can use during the Tournament, granting special powers as specified on the dedicated section of the Website. For instance, those trading actions may include the following possibilities:

- exchanging the fictitious return on investment (“ROI”) of one digital asset for that of another digital asset;
- exchanging 50% of the fictitious allocation in one digital asset for another digital asset;
- exchanging 100% of the fictitious allocation in one digital asset for a stablecoin from their selection of digital assets;
- “spying” on the fictitious wallets of other Users once the Tournament has started;
- exchanging the fictitious ROI of a digital asset for that of a stablecoin in their fictitious wallet; and
- hiding their fictitious wallet and preventing other Users from viewing its composition.

The Platform offers five types of Tournaments per week:

- “Crypto clash”: open to all Users;
- “Crypto portfolio punchout”: open only to Verified Users and Partially Verified Users;

- “Crypto craze”: open only to Verified Users and Partially Verified Users who are also members of level 5 of the Company's Discord channel, those requirements can be bypassed by owning a Yellow Cyberpunks Placeable;
- “Crypto Race To Riches”: open only to Verified Users and Partially Verified Users who are also members of level 10 of the Company's Discord channel, those requirements can be bypassed by owning a Purple Cyberpunks Placeable; and
- “Crypto traders’ challenge”: only owners of “Blue Cyberpunks” Placeable can participate.

The winner(s) of each Tournament receive rewards in the form of Placeable, Cities, Tiles, or Buildings (the “Rewards”).

Whatever their nature, the Rewards have no purpose outside of the Platform, which furthermore does not host a secondary market or allow the resale of these items on the Platform, for example, through an internal marketplace.

Should the owners of these NFTs elect to resell them on third-party platforms, they shall abide to the rules of those third-party platforms.

3.2.3 Whitelists

The Platform also provides Users with the opportunity to acquire Placeable from the Company to display in their City.

However, some Placeable can only be purchased by Users who have performed specific actions and are randomly selected by the Company. These selected Users are listed on what is known as “Whitelists”.

3.2.4 Sale of Tiles

Each User's City is composed of a certain number of Tiles, but only a portion of them is “buildable”, meaning that elements like Buildings or Placeable can be erected on them.

Users have the option to purchase additional Tile, thereby increasing the buildable space in their City. These Tiles are issued in the form of NFTs that Users hold in their Personal Wallets.

3.3 Right of withdrawal

The User acknowledges and agrees that upon use of the Services, no refunds and/or cancellations are permitted unless agreed in writing by Tanjiblocks.

- Professional Users. Professional Users do not benefit from the consumer's right of withdrawal.
- Consumer Users. You expressly acknowledge that the Use of the Services is to be carried out immediately. Therefore, under these Terms and Conditions, Users that are customers expressly waive their right of withdrawal, should such right exist, and give their express consent for the execution of the Terms and Conditions and the Services before the end of the right of withdrawal, the Terms and Conditions are definitively concluded as soon as the present Terms and Conditions are accepted by the User.

This may include the roll-out of update(s), new version(s), new services or other services, or the removal of existing Services.

Appendix Risk Factors

Risks Associated with the Polygon protocol

The digital assets linked to the Services are based on the Polygon Blockchain. Therefore, any malfunction, unplanned function or unexpected operation of the said Blockchain may cause the Website or Services to malfunction or operate in a way that is not expected.

Risks associated with the User's Wallet private key

Any third party that obtains access to the User's private keys may be able to use the User's digital assets. To minimize this risk, Users must protect themselves against people gaining unauthorised access to their electronic devices.

Legal risk and risk of adverse regulatory intervention in one or more jurisdictions

The operation of the Services may be impacted by the passing of restrictive laws, the publication of restrictive or negative opinions, the issuing of injunctions by national regulators, the initiation of regulatory actions or investigations, including but not limited to restrictions on the use or ownership of digital assets which may prevent or limit the development of the Services.

Given the lack of digital assets qualifications in most countries, each User is strongly advised to carry out a legal and tax analysis concerning the use of the Services according to the laws applicable to their nationality and place of residence.

Risk of theft and piracy

Hackers or other malicious or criminal groups or organizations may attempt to interfere with the Website or the availability of the Services in several ways including, but not limited to, denial of service attacks, Sybil attacks, mystification, surfing, malware attacks, or consensus-based attacks.

Risk of security weaknesses in the Website's core infrastructure software

There is a risk of weaknesses or bugs into the core infrastructure elements of the Website, thereby interfering with the use of the Services.

Risk of weakness or exploitable breakthrough in the field of cryptography

Advances in cryptography, or technical advances such as the development of quantum computers, may present risks for digital assets and the Website.

Liquidity Risk

The exchange of a digital asset for any type of digital asset is not always guaranteed.

Risk of an uninsured loss

Unlike bank accounts or accounts in other regulated financial institutions, digital held through Tanjiblocks or Polygon Blockchain network are generally uninsured. At present, there are no public or private insurance agents providing Users with coverage against a loss of digital assets linked to the Services or a loss of value.

Risk of winding-up of Tanjiblocks' project

For a number of reasons including, but not limited to, an unfavourable fluctuation in digital asset market value, the failure of business relationships or competing intellectual property claims, Tanjiblocks' project may no longer be a viable activity and may be dissolved.

Risk of malfunction on the Website and Services

The Website and Services may be impacted by an adverse malfunction including, but not limited to, a malfunction that results in the loss of digital assets linked to the Services or market information.

Unforeseen risks

Digital assets are a new and untested technology. In addition to the risks stipulated above, there are other risks that Tanjiblocks' team cannot predict. Risks may also arise out of and/or occur as unanticipated combinations or as changes in the risks stipulated herein.

If You are in any doubt as to the action You should take and the consequences it will involve, please consider consulting Your legal, financial, tax or other professional advisor(s) for necessary advice.
